

It's business as usual at Smith Bros

Amid so much uncertainty and concern, we at Smith Bros would like to explain how we are responding to the global health crisis and amid the current situation, it's business as usual at Smith Bros.

Our team has been briefed on precautions to reduce the spread of infection, what to do if they fall ill, and the self-isolation procedure. We have also suspended non-essential work-related travel until further notice. Moreover the members of our team who are able to begin remote working are ready to do so if necessary.

We have a business continuity and disaster recovery plan in place which plans for a variety of potential business continuity incidents, including the impact of pandemic illnesses.

Although there are a small number of cases of Coronavirus confirmed in the UK, there is no current impact to our teams or the services that we provide at this current time. However, as part of our business continuity framework we are carefully monitoring the development of the Coronavirus outbreak.

We are fully stocked and are continuing to deliver next day and operate our delivery routes as normal.

The whole team is grateful for your co-operation and understanding during this time.

Thank you,
The Smith Bros Team.

Our delivery drivers are operating under social distancing guidelines and will respect any guidelines your organisation has implemented when visiting your facility.
